We're a digital-first, full-service agency.

We love working with unique brands to tell their individual stories.

We formed Tegan in 2011, but we've been in the game for decades. We've worked at some of the largest agencies in the nation, and while we loved our time there, we're going to stay small by design. This allows us to be selective with the clients and projects we take on. We are strictly word of mouth, so relationships are everything to us.
